A: Indeed I have, sir! With the current economic climate prevailing in the US, there has been a great deal of interest in your proposal. The success of PC Rooms in Korea has fired the imagination of many American investors.

B: Are there any concerns that I can address at this time?

A: I think I've covered all the bases here. Some investors initially voiced the concern that with the prevalence of computers people have in their homes nowadays, there wouldn't be a niche to PC Rooms. But most Koreans also have computers in their homes, right?

B: That's right, but young people still prefer to go to PC Rooms to play games with their friends. That's the difference between our PC Rooms and the internet cafes that are popular in America.
