B: Let me take a look at it. I think it's your monitor cable popping off. Sometimes that happens with these older computers.

A: When are we all going to get those new transparent computers like the boss has?

B: We call those naked computers. I don't know, but they're pretty cool, aren't they?

A: They sure are! If a naked computer crashes, maybe a person can tell what was wrong with it just by looking into its exposed organs.

B: Well, that would sure be easier than systematically checking everything. Bad news, Lizzy. It's not your monitor cable after all.

A: Oh, this is so incredibly frustrating!
