2. When you are in London again, come and see us. (not When you will be)

The same thing happens after while / before / after / as soon as / until or till:

1. I'm going to read a lot while I'm on holiday. (not while I will be)

2. I'll probably go back home on Sunday. Before I go, I'd like to visit the museum.

3. Wait here until (or till) I come back.

Beginner

The Use of When I do / When I've done / When and If

2. You can also use the present perfect (have done) after when / after / until / as soon as:

Examples:

1. Can I borrow that book when you've finished with it?
2. Don't say anything while Ian is here. Wait until he has gone

If you use the present perfect, one thing must be complete before the other (so the two things do not happen together):

Example:

When I phoned Kate, we can have dinner.

(= First I'll phone Kate and after that we can have dinner.)

2. You'll feel better after you have or You'll feel better after you've had something to eat.

3. After if, we normally use the present simple (if I do / if I see etc.) for the future:

Example:

1. It's raining hard. We'll get wet if we go out. (not if we will go)
2. I'll be angry if it happens again. (not if it will happen)
3. Hurry up! If we don't hurry, we'll be late.
