No. 1

Taylor: I attended a retirement planning session recently.

Nick: Thinking about taking early retirement?

Taylor: No, I plan to work here for a few years yet.

Nick: Still, you're smart to think ahead. I'm really looking forward to taking it easy when I quit working.

Taylor: Actually, I don't plan to just lounge around.

Nick: What do you mean?

Taylor: I'm looking into volunteering at a homeless shelter or something.

Nick: I'm impressed by your motivation.

Question: What is Taylor planning to do?

No. 2

Megan: Hey, did you hear about Pete and Judy? They're moving to Houston.

Andrew: Houston! How come?

Megan: Pete got a great offer from his company to manage the office there.

Andrew: I imagine Judy isn't too happy about that.

Megan: Why not? It sounds like a great opportunity to me.

Andrew: Well, most of her family live here in San Francisco.

Megan: That's true, but it'll only take a few hours for her to fly back for a visit.

Question: What is the problem with the job candidate?

No. 3

Daniel: Thank you for seeing me, Ms. Rodriguez. I wanted to talk to you about Donnie's poor test results.

Ms. Rodriguez: It's worrying me, too. Your son's a good student otherwise. Does he make time to study?

No. 4

Hannah: I'm so annoyed, Tony. This new bag was a complete waste of money.

Tony: What do you mean?

Hannah: Look. It's starting to fall apart, and I've only had it a week.

Tony: Go back to the store and ask them to replace it.

Hannah: Do you really think they'll do that?

Tony: Having satisfied customers is pretty important, you know. It's in their best interest to make you happy.

Hannah: Maybe you're right. I suppose the worst they can say is "No."

Question: What does Tony suggest Hannah do?

No. 5

Kayla: Stan, long time no see. How's life?

Stan: Looking up, actually. I was laid off last month, but a few days later, I happened to bump into an old friend from college.

Kayla: And...?

Stan: We got talking and the next thing I know, I was being offered a high-paying job in a field I've always been interested in. And I get a company car.

Kayla: Seems too good to be true. Just to be on the safe side, you'd better check the details before you accept.

Question: What does Kayla think about Stan's job offer.

No. 6

Lauren: Remember, I'll be away from Tuesday to Thursday, honey. Are you sure you'll be OK?

Tyler: Yeah, it's all under control. I need to pick up the dry cleaning on Tuesday and take Billy to basketball practice on Wednesday night, right?

Lauren: Right. His summer training-camp fees are due then too. The money's on the counter.

Tyler: OK. Thanks.

Lauren: We have plenty of frozen dinners. And there's lots of pasta.

Tyler: Stop worrying! I'm sure we won't starve.

Question: Why is Lauren anxious?

Joe: Guess what, Felicity! I saw Tina Wilkins, our old sales manager, at the airport today. I ran into her on my way to the gate.

Felicity: Really? I wondered what happened to her after she got fired.

Joe: We didn't have much time to catch up, but she told me she'd started her own company and it's going well.

Felicity: I can't say I'm surprised. She's one of those people who always seems to land on their feet.

Question: What does the man say about Tina Wilkins?

No. 9

Kevin: Hello?

Jade: Hi, Kevin. It's Jade.

Kevin: Hey, how's it going?

Jade: Not bad. Listen, Aaron and I are moving at the end of the month. Could you lend a hand?

Kevin: If it's the last weekend of the month, I have tickets to the baseball game on the Saturday.

Jade: How about the Sunday? We'll move the light stuff on Saturday, and you can help us do the rest on Sunday. We're going to borrow my dad's van.

Kevin: OK. I'll be there bright and early.

Question: What does Kevin agree to do?

No. 10

Brandon: Honey, what do you think about doing some redecorating?

Stephanie: To be honest, I don't want to put any more money into this house.

Brandon: If we do the painting ourselves, it wouldn't cost much. I could ask my brother to help.

Stephanie: That's all we need! He breaks something every time he's here.

Brandon: True. Still, it wouldn't take long with just the two of us.

Stephanie: Sorry, honey. The last thing I want to do is spend the weekend

Danielle: Hi, Gavin. It's Danielle. Listen, I'm snowed in here, so I'm not going to make it back in time for tomorrow's meeting.

Gavin: Yeah. I saw the weather report and figured you'd be delayed. I have a copy of your presentation on my computer, so I'll cover for you.

Danielle: Thanks. I owe you one.

Gavin: I'll let the boss know. When do you think you'll be back?

Danielle: With all the flight cancelations, probably not until Thursday.

Question: What will Gavin do?
