Teacher's Script

Questions 1–3

Good afternoon, everyone. Before we begin our weekly sales meeting, I want to provide an update on our regional performance. Last month, our West Coast branch exceeded its target by 12%, which is a great improvement compared to earlier this year. However, our East Coast numbers dropped slightly due to supply chain delays. We've already spoken with our shipping partners, and they've assured us the issue will be resolved by the end of this month. I also want to remind everyone that the company retreat is scheduled for October 14–16 in Denver. We'll have team-building activities, strategy workshops, and a guest speaker from a leading marketing firm. Finally, please make sure to submit your monthly expense reports no later than Friday so the finance team can close the quarter on time. Any late

Questions 4–6

Welcome aboard, ladies and gentlemen. This is your captain speaking, and I'd like to thank you for choosing Sunrise Airlines Flight 802 to Honolulu. Our estimated flight time today is six hours and twenty minutes, and we are expecting smooth conditions for most of the trip. We are currently third in line for takeoff, so we should be airborne within the next ten minutes. Once we reach cruising altitude, our cabin crew will serve a complimentary lunch, followed by a selection of snacks later in the flight. In-flight entertainment will be available shortly after departure, with a variety of movies, TV shows, and music to choose from. The current weather in Honolulu is sunny, with a temperature of 82 degrees Fahrenheit. We expect to arrive on time, but we'll keep you updated if anything changes. Please sit back, relax, and enjoy your flight.

Questions 10–12

Attention, all employees: this is a reminder that our annual safety inspection will take place next Wednesday, beginning at 9 a.m. Inspectors from the city's fire and workplace safety department will be touring our facility to ensure compliance with all regulations. Please make sure all emergency exits are unobstructed and that fire extinguishers are easily accessible. If you work in the warehouse, double-check that all materials are stored securely and labeled correctly. During the inspection, employees may be asked to demonstrate knowledge of emergency procedures, including evacuation routes and first-aid kit locations. Department managers are responsible for verifying that all safety posters are current and displayed in visible areas. This inspection is not just about passing a checklist—it's about making sure our workplace remains safe for everyone. If you have any questions, please contact the safety committee by Friday so we have time to address your concerns before the inspection date.

Welcome to the Grand City History Museum. Today, I'd like to tell you about our new exhibition, "Bridges Through Time," which explores the engineering and cultural significance of bridges from around the world. You'll see detailed scale models, photographs from the early 20th century, and interactive touchscreen maps that explain how various bridge designs have evolved over centuries. One highlight is the restored model of the original Riverbend Suspension Bridge, built in 1889. For younger visitors, there's a hands-on station where they can construct miniature bridges using wood, string, and magnets. The exhibition runs until November 15th, and guided tours are available twice daily at 11 a.m. and 2 p.m. Tickets for tours can be purchased at the front desk for a small additional fee. Before you leave, be sure to visit the gift shop, which has books, postcards, and even small build-your-own-bridge kits. Thank you, and enjoy your visit to the museum.

Questions 16–18

Good afternoon, passengers. This is your captain speaking. We're currently cruising at an altitude of 35,000 feet, with smooth conditions ahead for most of the flight. We expect to arrive in Chicago approximately 20 minutes earlier than scheduled, thanks to favorable tailwinds. For those making connecting flights, please check the screens near the boarding gates upon arrival for updated departure information. The cabin crew will be coming through shortly to offer a final beverage service before we begin our descent. As a reminder, please

Questions 19–21

Welcome to the community gardening workshop. Over the next hour, we'll explore how to prepare your soil for planting, select the right crops for the season, and maintain a healthy garden without the use of harsh chemicals. Many people think gardening is just about watering and weeding, but it's really about building a balanced ecosystem where plants, insects, and soil all work together. One tip I'll share is to rotate your crops each year—this helps prevent soil depletion and reduces the risk of pests. We'll also cover composting techniques using everyday kitchen scraps, which is a great way to reduce waste and enrich your soil naturally. At the end of the session, you'll be able to sign up for our volunteer gardening days, held twice a month in the community park. Whether you're a beginner or a seasoned grower, there's always something new to learn about working with nature.

19. What is one topic that will be discussed in the workshop?
20. Why does the speaker recommend rotating crops?
21. Where do the volunteer gardening days take place?

Questions 25–27

Hello, and welcome to GreenEarth Eco-Tours. We specialize in small-group nature excursions designed to minimize environmental impact while maximizing your connection to the outdoors. Our most popular package is the three-day “Wilderness Explorer,” which includes guided hikes, wildlife observation sessions, and camping under the stars. Meals are prepared using locally sourced ingredients, and we follow strict “leave no trace” principles to protect the environment. This season, we’ve also added a kayaking option, allowing guests to paddle through pristine waterways and spot native bird species up close. All necessary gear is provided, but participants should bring their own reusable water bottles and comfortable walking shoes. To book your spot, visit our website or speak to one of our representatives at the front desk. We look forward to guiding you on an unforgettable eco-adventure.

annual neighborhood block party, starting at 5 p.m. on Elm Street between Fourth and Sixth Avenue. The street will be closed to vehicle traffic during the event, so please move your cars by 4 p.m. to avoid towing. This year’s festivities will include live music, a barbecue cook-off, children’s games, and a community raffle with prizes donated by local businesses. We’ll also have a table where you can register for upcoming neighborhood improvement projects, like the park cleanup and mural painting day. Volunteers are still welcome—just stop by the information booth if you’d like to help. It’s a great chance to meet your neighbors, enjoy some delicious food, and contribute to the community spirit that makes our neighborhood special. We hope to see you there!
