Teacher's Script

Questions 1 through 3 refer to the following airport announcement.

Good evening, ladies and gentlemen, and welcome aboard Pacific Air flight 472, nonstop service to Vancouver, British Columbia. We're just finishing up the final stages of boarding, and we expect to push back from the gate in about ten minutes. The captain has informed me that the current weather in Vancouver is a mild 62 degrees Fahrenheit with mostly clear skies, so it should be a smooth ride once we're airborne. As soon as we reach cruising altitude, we'll begin our in-flight meal service, starting with beverages, followed by dinner. Please remember to keep your seatbelts fastened whenever you're in your seat, even if the sign is off, as turbulence can occur unexpectedly. For those making connections in Vancouver, please check the screens near your Questions 4 through 6 refer to the following advertisement.

Are you tired of spending hundreds of dollars every month just to keep your car running? At GreenMotion Auto, we believe driving shouldn't drain your bank account—or the planet's resources. That's why we're offering a special lease deal on our all-electric EcoCruise model. With a range of 320 miles on a single charge, it's perfect for both your daily commute and your weekend road trips. And because it runs on electricity, you'll say goodbye to expensive gas stations for good. Our maintenance packages are also more affordable than those for traditional cars, since there are fewer moving parts. Right now, qualified customers can lease an EcoCruise for just $249 a month with zero down payment. Visit GreenMotion Auto this weekend to take advantage of this limited-time offer. Drive smarter. Drive cleaner. Drive GreenMotion.

in writing next week. Thank you all for your cooperation and hard work during this transition.

7. What new feature will the company introduce?
8. Why is the company introducing this feature?
9. Where will the training sessions be held?

Questions 10 through 12 refer to the following company memo announcement.

Good afternoon, everyone. As part of our ongoing efforts to improve workplace wellness and productivity, Human Resources is introducing a new professional development stipend program that will take effect at the start of the next quarter. Each eligible employee will receive an annual allowance that can be used toward approved courses, conferences, or certification exams related to their role. To qualify, staff must have completed six months of service and receive supervisor endorsement on the application form. Applications will be accepted beginning next Monday and must include a brief learning plan and expected outcomes. HR will review submissions on a rolling basis and notify applicants within two weeks. Please note that funding is limited, so priority will be given to programs that have a clear, measurable impact on job performance. If you have questions about eligibility or how to draft a learning plan, drop by the HR office or join the information webinar scheduled for Thursday at 3 p.m.

Welcome to the Maritime Heritage Wing—thank you for joining our guided tour today. The exhibition highlights a rich collection of artifacts from seafaring cultures spanning three centuries, including navigational instruments, ship models, and sailors’ personal journals. One highlight is the restored 19th-century captain’s log that provides first-hand accounts of long voyages and trade routes. Throughout the gallery, interactive displays allow you to examine trade maps and hear recorded oral histories. We encourage visitors to pay particular attention to the multimedia installation in Gallery Three, where soundscapes and projection mapping recreate the experience of a nighttime passage at sea. For those interested in a deeper dive, we offer an evening lecture series with historians and conservationists, and the museum shop carries several publications on maritime archaeology. Please remain with the group as we move through the galleries, and feel free to ask questions at the designated stops.

13. What is the main topic of the tour?

14. What exhibit feature does the speaker emphasize?

15. What additional program is mentioned?

Questions 16 through 18 refer to the following recruitment announcement.

Hello, everyone. I'm pleased to announce that we will be expanding our research and development team over the next quarter. We are recruiting for multiple positions, including junior engineers, a project coordinator, and a senior data analyst. Our goal is to bring on individuals who can help accelerate

18. What additional event will be held?

Questions 19 through 21 refer to the following plant tour announcement.

If you'll gather around the display area, I'd like to walk you through our latest production enhancements. Over the past six months we've upgraded our assembly line with automated vision systems that improve quality control by detecting defects earlier in the process. These systems integrate with our manufacturing execution software to provide real-time analytics on throughput and yield. Thanks to these improvements, we've been able to increase output while maintaining a high standard of product consistency. The line is capable of running continuously with minimal operator intervention, and we still retain skilled technicians to address exceptions and perform maintenance. We schedule preventative maintenance every eight weeks to reduce unscheduled downtime, and we maintain spare parts on-site for critical components. After this overview, you'll have the chance to observe the line in operation from the viewing gallery and ask questions of our engineering team.

I'd like to inform everyone that Maria Gonzalez will step in as interim head of client services while we conduct a search for a permanent director. Maria brings ten years of experience in account management and has led several major client initiatives with excellent results. During this interim period, she will handle escalation issues and oversee client onboarding processes. We expect the recruitment for the permanent position to take several months, and in the meantime Maria will continue managing her current projects with the support of a senior team lead. Please direct any immediate concerns about accounts to Maria or to your designated account manager. We'll be scheduling
