Teacher's Script

Questions 1 through 3 refer to the following airport announcement.

Ladies and gentlemen, welcome aboard Pacific Air Flight 217 to Vancouver. Our flight time today will be approximately four hours and twenty minutes, and we are expecting calm weather along most of the route. Please take a moment to store your carry-on luggage in the overhead compartments or under the seat in front of you. Federal regulations require that all passengers remain seated with seatbelts securely fastened whenever the seatbelt sign is illuminated. Shortly after takeoff, our cabin crew will serve a light snack and beverage service. Later in the flight, we'll offer a short duty-free shopping period featuring local products from British Columbia. If you are connecting to another flight in Vancouver, please refer to the screens in the arrivals area for Questions 16 through 18 refer to the following factory tour.

Welcome to the production floor of the Clearwater Bottling Plant. Here, we process and package more than fifty thousand bottles of mineral water each day. The water comes from a natural spring located just five kilometers from this facility. After filtration and quality testing, it's bottled using automated machinery designed to minimize waste. Each bottle is then labeled, sealed, and packed for shipping within two hours of filling. Our new energy-efficient equipment has helped us cut power usage by 30 percent in the past year. We also recycle all plastic scrap from the production line. Please stay within the marked walkways for your safety, and do not touch any of the machinery while the tour is in progress.

16. Where does the water originate?

of the purchase date in order to qualify for reimbursement. This change is intended to help our accounting department close monthly reports more efficiently. The policy applies to travel expenses, client meals, and any other business-related purchases. We will be rolling out a new online submission portal next week, and training sessions will be available on Monday and Wednesday afternoons. Please note that late submissions will no longer be accepted, except in cases of emergency approved by the finance director. More information, including the updated policy document, will be emailed to all staff later today.
